CANAL LOCKS FUNDS CUT OUT

EUROPEAN WAR SIX MONTHS OLD FRIDAY; TAMER THAN OLD ONE

PRESENT WAR IS ONE OF WATCHFUL WAITING; FIRST ONE OF FIGHTING

(By The Associated Press.)

The European war is six months old tomorrow and is tame by comparison with the World War at this stage.

Great Britain, France and Germany know they are in a serious war, but they have not yet had to go through what they did in the first six months of the World War. Then:

Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey were in on one side, and Britain, France, Belgium, Russia, Japan, Montenegro and Serbia on the other....

Germany had smashed across Belgium and through France to within a few miles of Paris....

The Russians had invaded Germany....

Slaughter at Tannenberg and in the first battles of the Marne and Ypres was history....

Japan was seizing German colonies in the Far East, Britain invading them in Africa....

Ships were sunk on the seven seas, three British cruisers going down in one memorable day....

Now, a quarter century later March 1 makes the present war six months old. Germany invaded Poland on Sept. 1, Britain and France declared war on Germany on Sept. 3.

War of Attrition

In this six months Britain and France have fought a war of attrition against Germany, content to hem her in and hurt her economically. As long as this goes on, they feel they are winning.

For far, Germany also has waited.

In one phase—the war on al-

DETERMINATION OF JOHNSON QUESTION STEP NEARER TODAY

BOARD OF CONTROL TAKES HAND IN ATTEMPTED FIRING OF EMPLOYES

AUSTIN, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Determination of the question whether the board of control has the power to discharge Superintendent W. J. Johnson of the San Antonio State Hospital was a step nearer today.

Records, from a trial court which held the board was without authority to discharge Johnson were filed in the Austin court of civil appeals.

State attorneys who appealed the ruling, which included extension of an injunction restraining the board from dismissing Johnson, indicated they would file a motion to advance a hearing with a view to early appellate court action after which the case may go to the supreme court for final determination.

The board yesterday instructed Johnson not to dismiss five employes he sought to remove after the employes had filed statements alleging the superintendent was attempting to fire them without good cause.

Four of the five voiced the opinion Johnson had ordered their discharge because they refused to "back him up" in the controversy over whether he is morally fit to continue in the superintendency.

DISASTROUS FLOOD CREST WAS MOVING SOUTHWARD TODAY

TRAIL INUNDATED RANCHES AND TOWNS LEFT; LEVEES ARE THREATENED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The Sacramento river, swollen by flood waters, burst through levees at seven places on a 12-mile stretch and surrounded three towns in the middle Sacramento valley today.

Three feet of moving water surrounded Princeton, Butte City and Codora, all small towns.

Some ranch families were marooned, but most of the residents of the countryside had ample time to reach safety.

Almost the entire population of Princeton, a town of 200 sought refuge in the high school gymnasium and in the Methodist church.

There was no report of death or injury.

At Willows, to the north, there was a report that three U. S. engineers who left Colusa yesterday in a truck, to inspect levees, had not been heard from.

Far to the north, the town of Dunsmuir, a railroad center, was isolated today. The Southern Pacific tracks were blocked by slides on the north and by washouts and slides on the south.

Perhaps as many as 5,000 persons were forced out of their homes by the floods which have plagued northern California since Monday.

Despite the peril of the waters and the hazards of rescues, only two deaths and but few injuries have been reported.

Many thousands of acres of farm lands were inundated, but loss of livestock was comparatively slight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The crest of a disastrous northern California flood moved southward along the storm-cluttered Sacramento river today, leaving a trail of inundated towns and ranches and threatening to burst levees downriver.

More than 4,000 persons were estimated homeless.

Federal Meterologist E. H. Fletcher said he had been informed

FORMER PRESIDENT HOOVER URGES AID TO STARVING POLES

CONGRESS ASKED TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR FEEDING OF STRICKEN PEOPLES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Former President Hoover recommended today that congress appropriate $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 now for Polish relief.

"The whole of Europe will be a spot of starvation when the war is over," he told the house foreign affairs committee, in declaring that the hardest hit of all today is dismembered Poland.

Hoover has been active lately in helping raise funds for Finland.

An appropriation now for Polish relief, Hoover testified, would help greatly in expediting the work, since the relief agency details could best be worked out with knowledge of what money was in sight.

"There must be neutral supervision of the distribution," he said, "to insure that the relief goes to the people for whom it was intended."

Hoover said the German govern-

FRENCH GOVERNMENT ADOPTS SERIES OF DEFENSIVE MEASURES

ENTIRE NATION IS REGIMENTED FOR FIGHT AGAINST GERMANY BY DECREE

By JOHN H. MARTIN.

PARIS, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The French government today adopted a sweeping series of economic and financial measures, regimenting the nation for the fight against Germany.

The cabinet, meeting under President Albert Lebrun, approved the institution of food ration cards, lower quality bread and generally reduced consumption, accompanied by increased production, in order to shoulder the tremendous financial burden of the war.

Great Britain and Germany already have rationing systems.

Finance Minister Paul Reynaud arranged to explain the decrees to the nation in a broadcast later today when it was expected the date when the decrees become effective would be disclosed.

Franc also took steps to put women into her munitions plants and release the men for the vital work of farming.

It was estimated 280,000 women already are engaged in the highly dangerous work of mixing

Two Residents of Kilgore Injured In Automobile Wreck

Two men, both residents of Kilgore, were seriously injured at an early hour Thursday morning in an automobile crash near Powell, nine miles east of Corsicana, on Highway 31.

J. D. Holder, aged 31 years, filling station operator, sustained a fractured left leg above the ankle and other injuries.

Don Creech, 28, employee of Holder, sustained a head injury, several fractured ribs and a broken collarbone.

Both men were rushed to the P. and S. Hospital in a Corley ambulance.

Sheriff Cap Curington and Deputy Sheriff Jeff Spencer answered the call. The crash occurred at 12:45 a. m.

Sheriff Curington reported that the two men were riding in a 1940 Ford DeLuxe V-8 coupe, and that the car crashed into the rear end of a 1937 pick-up Chevrolet. The sheriff said the truck was loaded with sweet potatoes and had been stopped on the pavement to repair a flat tire.

Curington quoted witnesses as stating that the automobile turned a flip over the top of the truck after the impact and then rolled and turned a distance of approximately 300 feet before coming to a standstill. The pick-up, the sheriff reported, was operated by O. E. Waters, of Tyler, formerly of Corsicana, who was outside the truck at the time of the accident, while Cecil Clayton, companion of Waters, was sitting in the truck. Neither Waters or Clayton was injured.

Waters was named in a complaint for parking on a highway, accepted by the criminal district attorney's office, and paid a fine of $14.15 to Judge Pat Geraughty in the case.

REDS BELIEVED TRYING CRUSH FINLAND BEFORE ALLIES SEND AID OR SPRING ENDS FIGHTING

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The fierceness of the bolshevist drives against the Finns represents a supreme effort on the part of the reds to make a quick "kill" before several prospective brands of trouble are dumped across their bloody route.

The Muscovite behemoth is trying to out-run time. But despite the fact that the defenders are bent under the mountainous weight being flung against them it's anybody's war yet.

The Finns still may turn the trick if their dog-tired but determined little army can withstand for maybe a month the terrific pressure which is being exerted against it, both from the north and from the south. That would give time for the development of two things which the Russians fear most:

1. Dispatch of an allied expeditionary force to support the defenders is being talked actively in London and the idea appears to be growing in favor rapidly.

2. When the scent of spring begins to fill the air, mother nature again will take a hand to protect her folk in the land of lakes by turning the country-side into a near-morass across which armies cannot fight.

Other aid already is getting through to the Finns, including volunteers of many nationalities. A striking indication that things are beginning to swing toward the Finns is the announcement in London the Major Kermit Roosevelt, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, would apply for permis-

ILLINOIS WOMEN TAKE OVER CITY IN LEAP YEAR GESTURE

AURORA BACHELORS FACE 24 HOURS OF TERRORISM---OR ELSE

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 29.—(AP)—The women of Aurora cleaned house at the city hall today.

They ousted the mayor, showed the police chief the door and installed the prettiest batch of public officials the city has seen since Feb. 29, 1936.

It was their leap year uprising—their quadrennial gesture in behalf of those who spend their days over a hot stove while the men folk are downtown picking money off the trees.

For mayor they chose a brunette, Miss Audrey Kesel, a dancing teacher, who promised that the next 24 hours wouldn't be any waltz for the bachelors around town.

"We're giving them an alternative, of course," she said with a twinkle in her eye. "If they don't want to get married they can go to jail."

That part of it will be up to Miss Elaine Carpenter, the leap year chief of police. She made a preliminary inspection of the hoosegow yesterday and observed: "What this place needs first of all is a good dusting."

There's no telling what will happen when the feminine city council

TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION APPEAL EAST TEXAS CASE

THREE-COURT COURT DECISION INVALIDATED PRORATION METHOD

AUSTIN, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today stuck by an earlier decision to appeal from a federal court conclusion invalidating the method of prorating production in the East Texas oil field.

Chairman Lon A. Smith who called a conference for possible revocation of the previous decision announced the attorney general would be requested immediately to appeal from a decision given in the cases of Humble Oil and Refining company and Rowan and Nichols.

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson and Smith favored the appeal while Commissioner Jerry Sadler, commenting he did not believe in "pussyfooting" continued to oppose it.

The court which found the present method of distributing the East Texas allowable penalizes better wells gave the commission until tomorrow to determine whether to appeal or write a new proration order designed to overcome objections.

Operators Revise Opinions.

Smith said many operators who had requested a special East Texas hearing had reversed their opinion. Thompson added numerous producers wired him that they opposed cutting the minimum allowable below 20 barrels per well which Thompson said would be necessary if an appeal was not taken.

The attorney general will be instructed to ask the court not to enter injunctions against the proration order while the appeal is in process. Smith added the commission might obtain a final

WELLES WILL FIND GERMAN LEBENSRAUM PROGRAM UNCHANGED

ROOSEVELT ENVOY BE MET WITH OFFICIAL EXPANSION DEMANDS

ZURICH, Switzerland, Feb. 29.—(AP)—United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles left Zurich at 4:07 p. m. (1:07 a. m. E.S.T.) today for Berlin to continue his fact-finding-out for President Roosevelt.

The State Department's No. 2 man and his party travelled in a first class German sleeper. He was due to reach Berlin at 9:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m. E.S.T.) tomorrow for conferences with Adolf Hitler and other German leaders.

Leland Harrison, United States minister to Berne, the German consul general at Zurich and nearly 1,000 Swiss cheered him on his departure. Special Zurich police watched over him.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, Feb. 29.—(AP)—When United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles arrives here tomorrow morning he will find official Germany determined to fight England and France until she has guaranteed both that the western powers will not interfere with Germany's "lebensraum"—living space—and that the last remaining "wrong" of the Versailles treaty, loss of German colonies, be "righted."

Nazi Germany has defined central and southeastern Europe consistently as "lebensraum." Authorized sources attached special significance to one passage in the speech of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels yesterday in which he said:

"The German people are perfectly aware that in this conflict of arms between themselves and western plutocracy life and

FINNS FALL BACK BEFORE HAMMERING OF SOVIET FORCES

INVADERS TRYING AT ALL COSTS TO ENCIRCLE AND CAPTURE VIIPURI

By WADE WERNER

HELSINKI, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Finnish troops have fallen back again before Russian forces hammering toward Viipuri along the western edge of the Karelian Isthmus, but the Finns said they had dug along new defense lines to inflict heavy losses on the enemy.

(A Russian communique said Soviet forces were within four miles of Viipuri.)

Fighting was concentrated at the two extremities of Finland. While the communique of the Finnish high command said 'enemy pressure" continued yesterday in the southeast, on the Isthmus, fighting also continued at the Nautsi river, in the far north about the Arctic circle.

The Russians were trying at all costs to push their advances on the western flank of the Mannerheim to encircle and capture strategic Viipuri, Finland's third largest city.

Russian forces also attacked at the other — or eastern—end of the isthmus front "in great force" at Taipale, according to the high command's communique which covered yesterday's action. The communique was unusually brief.

Russian planes meanwhile were sighted over Helsinki today. The capital was subjected to three air alarms up to midafternoon.

The Russians lost 'heavily" in men in the attacks along the Bay of Viipuri and the Finns also destroyed 14 tanks, the communique said, while on the Eastern front, northeast of Lake Ladoga, four tanks and one armored car were destroyed.

The high command said the Finns had captured "a few enemy strong points" at Kuhmo, on the Eastern front below Finland's "wasp waist," while in the Far North, in the Petsamo region, "fighting continues at the Nautsi river."

Four Russian planes were report-

SENATE COMPLETED ACTION ON MEASURE FOR FINNISH LOAN

BILL INCREASING EXPORT-IMPORT BANK CAPITAL GOES WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The senate completed congressional action today on a bill to increase capital of the Export-Import bank, making possible additional loans to Finland and China.

The measure, which would double the existing $100,000,000 capital of the bank, now goes to the White House.

The senate, which had passed the bill several days ago, today accepted house amendments permitting use of loan funds for financing commercial airplane purchases and forbidding extension of loans to nations in default of war debts.

After the senate gave its final approval, Democratic Leader Barkley obtained consent for the vice president to sign the measure during a senate recess or ad-

HOUSE FAILS TAKE HEED TO PRESIDENT FOR CONSTRUCTION

FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLAR ITEM LEFT OUT; FUNDS FOR PLANS, HOWEVER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Funds for starting work on a new set of bomb-proof locks for the Panama canal were withheld today when the house passed and sent to the senate a $203,472,567 appropriation bill to finance non-military functions of the war department.

The measure contained, however, $850,000 for preparation of plans for the locks, construction of which has been advocated by President Roosevelt as a national defense precaution.

The total of the bill represented a $16,009,134 reduction in President Roosevelt's budget estimates, due chiefly to elimination by the appropriations committee of a $15,000,000 item for commencing work on the canal's third set of locks.

In approving the bill as the committee wrote it the house accepted this elimination.

These latest cuts brought the total of congressional reductions in presidential estimates this session to $290,000,000.

One of the larger committee cuts the house approved in the war department bill was $700,000 for dredging the harbor of Wake Island in the mid-Pacific. It is on the route to Guam Island, which the navy wishes to fortify, but for which congress has repeatedly refused to sanction what it called preliminary steps in that direction.

Mississippi Flood Control

The bill contained $70,000,000 for flood control on the lower Mississippi river.

The chief executive's estimate for rivers and harbors improvements and maintenance was left virtually unchanged at $66,721,810. The committee trimmed a small amount for maintenance and surveys in addition to refusing the Wake item.

ARMED POLICEMEN GUARDING BUDAPEST FRENCH LEGATION

CONTINUE SIEGE AGAINST ALLEGED TRAFFIC IN PASSPORTS FOR CZECHS

BUDAPEST, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Saber-bearing policemen today guarded exists of the French legation, under orders to break up an alleged traffic in French passports for Czecho-Slovak refugees—orders reported to have been issued by Hungary under German pressure.

The police maintained an all-night vigil around the four-story stone building where they said 40 refugees were harbored. All callers at the legation were examined and automobiles leaving the inner courtyard were searched.

An inquiry at the legation brought the answer that no one at the moment was authorized to discuss the situation.

High Hungarian officials, however, were understood to have told the French minister, Pierre Guerlets, that so long as the passport traffic endangers Hungary's neutrality, in the German view, the police watch would not be relaxed.

It was reported that the beleaguered Czech-Slovaks sought haven in the diplomatic immunity of the legation when police started to round up scores of persons holding French passports without being able to speak French.

AMERICAN PEOPLE DONATING MOST EVERYTHING FROM MULE TO MUZZLE-LOADER TO FINLAND

By EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—To aid Finland in its war against Russia, the American people are donating everything from a Missouri mule to a muzzle-loading rifle.

Every mail brings a new load of voluntary contributions to the Finnish legation, located in one of the capital's fashionable residential sections.

The mule, incidentally, was not led up to the door and delivered. It was the gift of the American Legion in Paris, Mo., and will be auctioned in its home state and the money sent to Finland to buy another mule or a reasonable facsimile.

The second equestrian gift—a horse—was donated by a group from the Virginia hunt country. It, too, will be auctioned off and the funds sent to purchase a fine mount for a Finnish officer.

A man in Massachusetts sent his prized hunting rifle, asking that it be given to some 'brave officer." The donor's father sent along $50 to buy ammunition.

"The gifts," said an attache at the legation, "are so varied, and for that reason we believe they come from the heart. We are deeply grateful."

A Minneapolis housewife, whose husband is on relief, sent a can opener ... A child in Texas mailed in a penney he had been given for candy...In yesterday's mail was a money order for $138.36 raised by the school children of Watton, Mich.

A New Jersey bachelor sent an overcoat he had worn but once... A Tennessean gave the Finns a revolver and cash to buy cartridges. He also penned a note telling the recipients just what to do with it.

Dozens of persons simply have rung the door bell at the legation and handed over their gifts to whoever opened the door.

A Washington physician who has a patient working at the legation wrote across his bill: "Use for Finland." Two taxi drivers have brought cash donations, and a negro butler from a neighboring home gave a $5 bill.

SIGNOR MUSSOLINI BECOMING NICE, GENTLE FELLOW, SAYS RECENT LECTURER IN TEXAS

By JACK KREUGER
Associated Press Staff.

Suave Mr. Sumner Welles and Benito Mussolini got along famously in their little chat in Rome this week...But here is a snapshot we feel must be passed around, and we hope Il Duce is too busy elsewhere to notice...It seems that Dr. Robert Temple of Washington, D. C., recently lecturing before our own North Texas Teachers' College students, psychologically took Signor Mussolini apart to show that the Italian dictator was breaking out with every symptom of becoming a nice, gentle fellow...Especially in comparison with that very bad man Adolf Hitler...Il Duce, he related, has turned religious, taken up the violin and nurtures hopes of retiring before long and going on the American concert stage...Dr. Temple's words got to London, where the tabloid Daily Mirror printed them...That gave our correspondent, who spotted the item, a chance to get down his candid-camera typewriter and in a private note let go with this:

"Can you imagine Musso the Virtuoso casting his eyes to Heaven and, breathing a fervent prayer for Haile Selassie, playing Ave Maria on an American concert platform?...He would need a new suit of tails, by the way. When I was his guest in the Palazzo Venezia a year ago along with Nev (Mr. Chamberlain, no doubt) and some 3,000 others, he was wearing a wing collar only an inch high, tie awry, suit almost bursting around the armpits, crumpled shirt and, most heinous of all, showing two inches of sock.

So don't worry too much about that fraying collar...

The famed Cossack Singers, a choir of exiled White Russians traveling on Czechoslovakian passports in the United States, is coming to Texas soon en route to Mexico...There to be naturalized as citizens of our neighboring republic...Which underscores the fact that the country south of the border is becoming a much a refuge as a filling station in a hailstorm...Mr. Leon Trotsky, ...th-

MANY COMMUNITIES REPRESENTED DAIRY SHORT COURSE HERE

CORSICANA BUSINESS MEN COMPLIMENTED ON SUPPORT OF PROGRAM

Support given by Corsicana business men to the new dairy program in Navarro county and the thorough manner in which important details had been studied and worked out were highly complimented by visiting speakers at the one-day short course Wednesday.

The morning session was held at the Palace theatre and was highlighted by the presentation of a motion picture showing the workings of the digestive system of a cow, a talk on proper feeds by E. R. Eudaly, and another on breeding by D. T. Simons, field representative of the American Jersey Cattle Club.

A large number of representatives from communities in all parts of the county as well as numerous business men and groups of boys from 4-H clubs and vocational agriculture classes were in attendance.

County Agent H. C. Robinson presided at the meeting and asserted the large number present attested to the interest in dairying in the county. He then presented Mr. Eudaly, extension dairyman for Texas A. and M. College. In his introduction, the speaker declared that a cow must be kept on the job and productive to be profitable and in order to reach this goal ample supplies of suitable feeds, cheaply produced were prerequisites.

Mr. Eudaly told his audience there was more profit per acre in selling wholesale milk than in a much higher priced retail product because of the additional equipment and labor involved.

Feed for dairy cows must be of the right quality and cheaply produced, the speaker asserted, and fresh green feeds were listed as the most appropriate because of the higher content of water, proteins, minerals and vitamin A. The specialist declared that American farmers should learn from the practices used in Europe for many years profitably. He declared that the best land in a farm used for highly developed permanent pastures and marketed through cattle would have a much higher net income per acre than any of the "regular" crops cultivated now.

Feed Supply.

To insure an ample supply of feed during the winter and drought years, the dairyman urged growing of all possible quantities of feed and storage in trench silos. He declared that more feed was lost in Navarro county last year than was actually fed to animals, pointing out losses through waste, evaporations and other causes. He insisted that a farmer had to be successful in the feed business before he could market dairy products profitably. He also announced he would present a simple method of testing dairy rations for balance in the afternoon.

With G. G. Gibson, assistant dairyman as the speaker, a motion picture of the intricate workings of the digestive system of a cow was presented. The film was made by actually inserting a camera inside a cow's stomach, and the manner in which the animal handled various types of feeds were shown.

R. L. Harris expressed the appreciation of Navarro county producers for the school being presented by the extension service and for the helpful information they were presenting. He then invited everyone interested to attend a showing of a natural color motion picture showing farm practices in many foreign countries to be presented at the Palace theatre on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Milk Routes.

R. W. Knight, manager of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, explained the operations of the milk routes which will be started in the vicinity of Corsicana on March 15. He outlined the tentative routes and announced that for the present no attempt would be made to serve producers who were not immediately adjacent to all-weather roads. He also announced a meeting for prospective producers would be held in the near future and necessary instructions given at that time. He also outlined the plans of the chamber of commerce for giving assistance in financing additional cows and in securing of bulls for the breeding up of existing herds.

Mr. Simons was then presented and complimented the work of R. L. Harris, formerly of Blooming Grove, for having secured some of the finest breeding bulls for foundation herds in Texas.

He frankly admitted the national Jersey breeders organization had found after years of effort that they had been using wrong yardsticks for the measuring of their breed, and stated a new policy was now being used which would result in greatly improved animals.

The cattlemen reported that suitable bulls could be secured if proper attention was paid to the production averages of three sets of sisters, including those of the dam, and of those on the paternal and maternal branches. He also stated a definite correlation had been found between type and production. He announced that under the new system, bulls would be rated by stars, and that selective registration would become effective after 1942 and no animal under a 400 pound average production would be subject to registration.

Concluding his talk, Mr. Simons complimented highly the support of the business men given the dairy program and insisted that in years of experience he had never seen a successful program without the support of the business men of the town or county. He urged the farmers to secure enough cows to make dairy production pay and become home-rairymen rather than just "cow milkers." He predicted the new policy of the Jersey men would result in their actually becoming breeders of better cattle rather than mere multipliers.

The afternoon session was held in the gymnasium of the YMCA.

INCREASED COTTON SHIPMENTS FACTOR IN TRADE INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Increased cotton shipments were an important factor in boosting the margin of American merchandise exports over imports during Januaury to $126,489,000.

The commerce department said last night that January exports totaled $368,550,000 and imports $241,961,000. The margin was one of the largest in recent years. In January, 0139, it was only $34.665,000.

January cotton shipments totaled 1,125,000 bales, compared with 327,000 a year ago.

Other important exports during the month included airplanes, machinery, metals, canned vegetables and semi-manufactured goods. Imports increased on silk, wool, nickel, wood pulp, diamonds and burlap.

AGRICULTURE IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES SHOWN IN PICTURES

Agricultural practices in a number of foreign countries including England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Germany will be shown in moving pictures at the Palace theatre, Saturday morning, March 2, beginning at 10 o'clock, by A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, according to an announcement this week by B. L. Sanders.

The show is being sponsored by the Navarro and Corsicana National Farm Loan Associations, and co-operating in the arrangements are the county agents, vocational agriculture teacners and others.

Another feature of the show will be scenes made during the 1939 Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show which include livestock exhibits, particularly the boys' club calves and also handcraft and agricultural displays.

All of the pictures are in natural color, and the foreign portion was made last year during a tour of Europe by a group of A. and M. students, who included one former student of the Odd Fellows Home.

WHAT YOUTH NEEDS

In one respect, anyway, those rather annoying boys and girls at the American Youth Congress were sound. And it was a fundamental thing.

They didn't ask for hand-outs. They asked for a chance to work. Specifically they asked for $500,000,000 to provide jobs, scholarships and vocational training for young people.

The sum might be questioned, but the principle is the thing. And it was a sure instinct that called for vocational training rather than "white collar jobs."

The blue jeans job, with a skilled workman inside the jeans, is not only a youthful but a national need today. In the age of machinery we have not been training enough of our intelligent and energetic young people how to make and use the tools and machines available. We need millions of trained hands and brains in a hundred new forms of employment, actual or potential.

JAP JUGGERNAUT STALLED

Japan may have shot her bolt in China. The latest information is that the army has taken all the territory it can hold, and intends to stand pat on its present holdings and consolidate its gains.

The military leaders naturally assume, or pretend, that they can do this, but disinterested observers are doubtful. It seems still true that the invaders, while extending their lines along main routes that make a network of thousands of miles, still fail to control the area within such boundaries. Their authority is said to prevail only in the captured cities and in narrow belts along the railroads and the few existing highways. Chinese guerilla bands still keep up their nocturnal warfare, cutting the transport lines and attacking military camps and villages. The invaders' men and materials are said to be wearing out and new supplies are scarce.

Unless an unforseen change comes, Chiang Kai-shek and his forces and allies may yet win in their strange war without battles. And for that, no doubt, the Tokyo ward lords will blame Uncle Sam—although so far, at least, by providing war materials, this country has helped Japan far more than China.

DEFERRED WAGES

John Maynard Keynes, who foresaw the economic consequences of the World War peace treaties, has a a plan for compulsory saving and the control of consumption during war. Wages rise eventually in a period of war, he points out, but that is no guarantee of a rise in "real earnings." If workers are to enjoy steady prosperity, there must be some system of deferred payment. The plan suggested by Keynes is something like this:

Workers would be given "blocked" deposits in the Postoffice Savings Bank for part of their pay. When the war ended, this deposit would be available for purchase of consumer goods or any other purpose. Thus there would not be any war boom or any slump in after-war buying power.

Economists doubtless will study the plan. Making it effective is something else. It might be hard to persuade workers to wait until any given war was over for their pay.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

"YOU SHOULD READ IT!"

"You should read it!" some one cries
Of a book just off the press
And right then I turn my eyes
Where are hundreds, more or less,
Volumes old and very wise
Shelved in utter loneliness.

"You should read it!" I am told
By some pleased enthusiast
And I turn and then behold
Browning, held in leather fast,
Milton, master poet old
Waiting till I've time at last.

"Here's a book which you must read!"
Every day I hear thiss taid.
And as want of time I plead
Old Sam Johnson hangs his head
Saying: "Here is much you need
Shelved before you, still unread!"

"You must read it!" oft the cry
Follows clever books and good.
Time goes rushing on and I
Pile them up, like so much wood,
Knowing surely I shall die
Without reading all I should.

NEAR-EAST PREPAREDNESS.

It's about time for another crop of readers to tackle Lawrence of Arabia's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom." That book is strong meat, but a lot of Americans have found it worth while merely as a remarkable piece of writing and a colorful picture of the Arabian campaign in the last war. Now, a quarter of a century later, the whole Near East suddenly becomes alive again with marching troops and martial spirit.

The Arabs now seem to be British allies. Old hostilities are forgotten. Like the British and French, they have made peace with the Turks, and the whole Near East rises together, prepared for—what?

It looks like mere self-defense against Germany and Russia and protection for the Balkans. There might be a strategic attack on Russia to divert Stalin from his northern campaign and save the Finns. In any case, it will be worth watching.

CANDIDATES' GOOD LOOKS

Radio appeal isn't the only charm contemporary presidential candidates should cultivate. A make-up artist in Hollywood advises them all to look to their movie appeal as well. A lot of them are not at present photogenic, he explains. Hollywood—not the dictionary—says that simply means their pictures don't flatter them.

Screen close-ups, the authority reminds all would-be presidents, magnify faces and at the same time magnify the freckle, gap between teeth, mole, misplaced hair-part, incongruous mustache or other displeasing features. He recommends careful scrutiny of photographs and mirror reflections for the purpose of improving the results on the screen. Men with full faces should wear large collars to avoid the fleshy bulge above them. Dental "jackets" should be put on ugly teeth. A dash of powder on the face would tone down florid coloring.

Movie fans have been trained to expect good looks on the screen, he says, and they want their real life heroes to meet the standard set by the movie heroes.

Woodrow Wilson's famous statement, "My face, I don't mind it, Because I'm behind it," doesn't go when the face is to be shown on hundreds of screens to millions of voters.

Every day now is heading toward another smoke-filled room, or a couple of 'em, in Chicago, and making the public wonder what the big boys do when the smoke gets in their eyes.

Now we're told that the car of the future will be made of transparent plastics. The next step would be to see through the driver and know which way he's going to turn.

Poor Russian Bear! Just as he's about to swallow Finland, Britain and France prepare to step on his tail in the Caucasus region.

An actress nowadays doesn't amount to much until she's had two of three divorces.

Demonstration of Meat Canning Was Given at Samaria

American people of today spend more money for meat than for any other type of food In view of this fact, a group consisting of approximately twenty-five persons were present at a meat canning demonstration held in the Samaria community near Kerens, Texas, Tuesday, February 27. The idea in mind was to study ways of providing the meat supply at home which, according to the Texas Food Standard, is one serving daily or one hundred seventy-five pounds (including fat for cooking) yearly per person.

Forty-seven containers of pork, including sausage in cakes, sausage in links, roast, and ribs were canned. In addition, fourteen quarts of lard were cured.

Those benefited by the demonstration expressed a determination to supply the protein needs of their family by canning more meat because meat contains proteins that are superior in quality to that of any other food except milk and eggs.

Washington Tea And Shower In Honor Of Kerens March Bride

KERENS, Feb. 29.—(Spl.)—The home of Mrs. Joe Sheppard was the scene of a lovely afternoon tea on Thursday, Feb. 22, when Miss Dorothy Holt, who will become the bride of Whit Scarborough on Thursday, March 7, was honored with a George Washington tea and miscellaneous shower. At this time co-hostesses were eight close friends of the honoree.

Between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, several hundred friends called and had the privilege of viewing the many beautiful gifts which had been sent in previously.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. E. H. Norton and Mrs. L. E. Gray, who invited them to the living room where they were received by Miss Holt, her mother, Mrs. L. H. Holt, Mrs. J. E. Norris of Corsicana, sister of Mr. Scarborough; Mrs. Roy Scarborough of Kerens, and Mrs. W. F. Smith of Trinidad.

Presiding over the bride's book were Mrs. E. K. Howell and Miss Cecil Ross.

Passing into the dining room, a lovely picture met the eye in the lace-covered refectory table, which held at one end a huge chystal bowl of red carnations and white candytuft, topped with a red satin bow with streamers reaching toward the crystal candelabra, in which white tapers shed a diffused light over the scene.

Pouring tea from the silver service was Mrs. S. W. White the first hour, and Miss Virginia Crowley the second.

Dainty ribbon sandwiches carrying out the chosen red and white color scheme and delicious homemade candies were attractively placed on crystal trays, where all helped themselves.

Throughout the calling hours, a musical program was rendered by Mmes. J. R. Simmons, C. J. Hall and James Helser, pianists, and Mrs. R. H .Mays, Miss Cecil Ross and Mrs. F. E. McCown, vocalists.

Mrs. A. J. Overton of Malakoff and Mrs. Thurman Finch of Corsicana were among the many out of town guests at this lovely affair, the latter assisting the the bedrooms, where the gifts were displayed.

Miss Holt, who has spent practically her entire life in Kerens, graduated from the Kerens schoo and at present is a member of the postoffice force, is known as one of the city's most popular and well loved daughters.

Quite a number of pre-nuptial social affairs have been planned in her honor, with almost every day between now and the wedding date filled with engagements.

Kerens Boy Honoree Of Luncheon on His Eighth Birthday

KERENS, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Charles Horace Newsome was honored by his mother, Mrs. H. J. Newsome, with a lovely 12 o'clock duncheon, Wednesday, in celebration of his eighth birthday. Eleven of his close friends accompanying him home from school, enjoyed the delicious menu built around spring chicken, which was attractively served at the tables in the dining and living rooms. Place favors were Mother goose figurines.

Charles Horace received a number of beautiful gifts, dear to the heart of a boy, which will help to keep fresh the memory of one of the happy occasions of childhood. Celebrating with him were: Shirley Taylor, Diane Coates, Lynette McClung, Jean Westbrook, Henry D. Barnett, Jimmie Spencer Jimmie Wright, Don Paschal, Pat Newsome, Teddy Berry, and Linda Rowe.

EMMETT DEFEATED K. WOLENS CAGERS IN EXCITING GAME

Emmett cagers out-battled the Corsicana K. Wolen basketeers to gain a 41-40 win Wednesday night and eliminate K. Wolens from loser's bracket of the annual Y. M. C. A. independent basketball tournament.

The contest proved to be a thriller from the beginning, with the score never varying over four points throughout the game. The score stood tied 9-9 at the end of the first quarter and 21-21 at the end of the second. Emmett forged ahead by a one point margin at the end of the third and retained the lead for the remainder of the contest.

Play in the men's division will be continued Friday night with Dr. Pepper meeting Irene at 7:30 o'clock and Union High opposing Emmett at 8:30 o'clock.

Semi-finals and finals in the annual Future Farmers of America basketball tournament for this district will be played in the YMCA gymnasium beginning early Thursday afternoon. The finals in the FFA tournament were scheduled to be played here several weeks ago, but no announcement of teams winning sectional county contests has been made, C. F. Broughton, physical director stated.

Bronze Plaque Be Presented Friday At Safety Meeting

A bronze plaque for a ten-year record of 304,703 man hours of work in bringing gas service to customers in the Corsicana area without a disabling injury will be presented to the Richland pipe line district Friday night (March 1) at a safety meeting for Lone Star Gas System units in the local office of Community Natural Gas Company, 109 North Main Street, A. W. Breeland, company safety supervisor, will make the presentation.

Aluminum plaques will go to the Mexia district of Community Natural for its record of 123,882 man hours in five years without a disabling injury, and to the Athens district with 38,451 man hours in five years.

Corsicana district of Community Natural will get a one-year certificate representing 33,159 man hours without disabling injury, and Ennis district, a one-year certificate for 25,373 man hours.

L. E. Southard of Groesbeck is foreman of the Richland pipe line district and the Community Natural Gas Company district managers are Frank V. Williams, Corsicana; L. D. Black, Ennis; Ross L. Dixon, Athens, and A. A. Johnston, Mexia. The various safety records were completed December 31.

The Whites Now Have Eighteen Children at Home

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Remember Mr. and Mrs. William Andrew White, who were acclaimed two years ago for having a family of 17 children, all living at home?

Now they have 18. Their tenth son was born Tuesday night, but White, a treasury clerk, tried to keep it quiet to avoid any "fuss."

Mr. and Mrs. White are in their mid-forties. Their eldest child, William, is 22. They have one set of twins, 16.

ALL AROUND THE WORLD ONE FAMILY FEAST IS KEPT*

Farewell Celebration of Man About to Die Now A Universal Rite—Some Significances of the Last Supper

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Most visitors to Jerusalem are taken to see the traditional site of the "Upper Room," where the Last Supper was celebrated by Jesus and His little group of intimate friends, sometimes called His family. The room shown is now a mosque, a quiet, impressive ancient chamber in the southwest corner of the city. Of course, it is not the veritable room where the very heart of Christianity was revealed; for Jerusalem has several times been completely destroyed since then. But the place shown is provocative of meditation. Its Oriental simplicity is significant.

That immortal meal is daily duplicated all around this wide world. The friends, the family, of Christ gather about altar-tables, to keep Him in remembrance, and to share the imparted life He promised. We are going rather daft over censuses and polls and questionnaires; but nobody has ever estimated the significance of the groups who rally for spiritual refreshment to the table of the Lord. Yet herein is one of the major influences of civilization.

Old Thomas a 'Kempis suggests that if Holy Communion were administered in only one place, and once a year, there would be an astonishing pilgrimage to it. For this is the high feast of the Christian faith.

Modern Communion Service

A few days ago I attended a communion service in the old and beautiful Independent Presbyterian Church in Savannah. It observes the Scottish form, long, linen covered tables being set up in the aisles, and in front of the high pulpit. At the close of the sermon, the communicants reverently seat themselves at the tables, heightening the family effect of the sacrament. The tears that welled in the eyes of the woman opposite me revealed how deeply moving is the occasion.

I lingered after the service to talk with friends, and saw the women busily dismantling the tables. I was forcefully reminded of the unknown and unrecorded helpers who labor behind all public ceremonies. We have no mention of the persons who prepared the Last Supper for our Lord and His disciples. They themselves did not buy or bake the bread, or the paschal lamb. Probably Mary, the mother of Mark, and her assistants, were responsible for the material preparation. The whole world moves on the labors of countless housewives, who prepare the meals that mankind eats.

In secrecy and by pre-arrangement, the Upper Room had been made ready. The city was full of enemies, who were rapidly closing in on Jesus. He sought this last quiet communion with His nearest and dearest, to fortify Himself and for the ordeal that was so near. How warmly human, and how tragic, were His words, "With desire have I desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer." There spoke the hungry-hearted human Jesus, craving fellowship and sympathy and understanding.

Light on a New Faith

Out of the plain people Jesus came, to do His works, speak His words, live His life. The utter simplicity of His method is fairly staggering. He did not formulate a new creed, or organize a new religion. There were more than three hundred religions current in the Roman Empire of His day; yet He borrowed nothing from them, and did not take over any of their impressive trappings. He depended wholly upon the fidelity of His little group of friends to carry on His message and mission.

If this small band of peasants—one of them already a traitor—should fail Him, then His life work would be the complete failure that it as first seemed. God would have to find some other way to redeem the world. There was no fund for the propaganda of this Gospel; no ecclesiastical organization; no amulets, charms or relics; no written charter or creed. Christianity's future all depended upon the eleven, gathered in scared and mystified fellowship in that one upper room. Today's Church, which ten thousand great cathedrals cannot contain, exists today because that handful of disciples, gathered about a common table of fellowship, were true to their trust.

Today there is a rising in the hearts of the common people everywhere, a new upsurge of seeking for the leadership and comfort of Christ. Highly-placed ecclesiastical leaders do not all sense this; but humble gatherings of toilers on obscure streets, where they hold deeply emotional meetings, testify to the response which eager hearts are making to the call of Christ.

The Reporter and the Pauper

We are moved by the solicitude of Jesus to be remembered by His friends. The Last Supper is a memorial feast; its message is "Remember Jesus Christ." For in memory of Him, with His imparted power, lies all the potentiality of the Gospel to give to individual lives faith and fearlessness, patience and piety, service and sacrifice. The Master, about to die, wanted to share Himself with His friends, and their friends, and their friends' friends, down through the ages.

When a young reporter in York, Pa., I was once called to the almshouse to see an unidentified dead man. He was only a poor derelict; but the aged pauper who had attended him at death complained querously to me that the man had died, beseeching him to hold his hand. "I didn't want to hold his hand." So the poor fellow had died, uncomforted by any human touch.

Throughout the years my memory has been vivid of that dying man's vain yearning for something of human companionship; and I have somehow associated it with the eager desire of the doomed Saviour for the fellowship of His friends. He wanted them—and all who have come after them—to partake of the fellowship of His sufferings, and to share the life of His broken body and shed blood. "This do in remembrance of Me."

Backward and Forward

Like a double-headed arrow on the highway, to direct the motorists, this Last Supper points both backward and forward—backward to the life and mission and death and resurrection of the Saviour; forward to new life of the believer and to the feast that is to be resumed in the Father's house.

This solemn sacrament is freighted not only with memories, but also with hope. It was held in an hour of hate and tragedy, when evil was about to do its worst to the Man of Sorrows. But it held also the Master's own assurance that the wine would be drunk anew, and the bread eaten, in the Kingdom of the Father.

More potent for the creation of a new world order than all the conference tables of statesmen is this table of the Lord, where men and women gather in self-surrender and in mutual love and holy purpose.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

In a word, this was felt to be the supreme need; 'to get God's man, in God's place, doing God's work, in God's way, for God's glory."

—Hudson Taylor.

Shun the habit of "putting off," as you would a temptation to crime.

—Orison Sweet Marden.

'Tis heaven alone that is given away;
'Tis only God may be had for the asking.

—James Russell Lowell.

You may say the right word in the wrong tone; you may preach the Gospel as if it were a curse.

—Joseph Parker.

Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace.—Psalm 37:37.

Yet I doubt not through the ages one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widening with the process of the suns.—Tennyson.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS DISCUSS ACTIVITIES DAIRY IMPROVEMENT

COMMITTEE REPORTS ESTABLISHMENT OF PERMANENT MILK ROUTES

Recent developments in connection with the establishments of milk routes and other dairy improvement practices in Navarro county occupied members of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Tuesday morning.

Minutes of the last session were read and approved. An invitation to attend a free motion picture show presenting farm practices in several foreign countries and also scenes from the 1939 Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show at the Palace Theater Saturday morning was read from B. L. Sanders.

A letter was read from V. C. Marshall, administrator for the Soil Conservation Board, asking for additional information preparatory to an election of this area. He indicated the application for formation of a district had been approved.

A letter and a resolution from the Dallas Chamber of Commerce asking for a similar measure from the local organization in regard to a bill now pending in Congress in connection with the development of inland waterways was passed without action.

Pledge Co-Operation

The board agreed to co-operate fully with the Corsicana Business and Professional Women's Club in the annual public relations banquet tentatively set for Tuesday, April 23, with Margaret Harris-Gordon as the main speaker.

President Joe E. Butler reported a number of effective committee meetings had been held recently and plans for the new year were shaping up nicely.

Chairman A. F. Mitchell of the dairy committee expressed his appreciation for the faithfulness of his group. He reported a contract had been concluded with the Borden company of Waco to pick up milk in Corsicana for a twelve-month period and the routes would definitely be operated that long.

R. W. Knight reported an a number of details of the improvement plans which include secuffing and financing of additional cows, and supplying of proven bulls for breeding up of herds. It was also reported additional cows had been secured for the Kerens area and more were being sought. It was estimated by some of the directors that about 500 cows could be effecttively added to Navarro county herds during the year. Invitations have been extended to several representatives of neighboring communities to attend the dairy school and the joint meeting of service clubs in Corsicana Wednesday.

A. P. Bralley, assistant county agent, reported a number of boys would undertake corn projects this year, using special seed provided by the agriculture committee. He also indicated plans would be made in the future for another trench silo contest and also some means of showing farm homes which had these silos.

President Butler and others reported extensive correspondence in regard to securing castor bean seed for experimental planting, and it was indicated a representative of one of the large processing plants would likely visit Corsicana soon.

Chairman J. F. "Speedy" Adams of the membership committee reported his group was all set for the drive to be launched at 9:30 Wednesday morning to secure a minimum of $2,000 in additional revenue.

Brief reports were made on recent visits to Tyler and Jacksonville by chamber officials, and on the asphalt treatment announced for Highway 75 between Richland and Streetman.

COUNTY COUNCIL OF HDC HEARD REPORT HARRISON COUNTY

Harrison county's "unit system" of road and bridge work places the management of men and materials on a county wide basis under a competent engineer Miss Ona Bell Ramage reported on a unified road system conference she attended in Marshall early in January to the Navarro County Council of Home Demonstration clubs in Corsicana Saturday.

This system which has been in effect in Harrison county the past five years, makes possible standardization of machinery, centralized purchasing, the operation of a central repair shop and the keeping of accurate financial records.

Under the unit system all operations are placed on a pay-as-you-go basis. Miss Ramage pointed out that during the last four years more than 200 miles of all-weather roads had been built, while the tax rate was reduced approximately one-fourth. She concluded by saying that Harrison county's plan offers much encouragement to those interested in democratic local government.

President Mrs. W. C. Wasson presided at the council meeting. The chairmen of the different committees presented tentative plans which they had worked out to the members. These plans were unanimously adopted. A letter was read by the secretary, Mrs. R. P. Garrett, relative to the annual one-day short course to be held in Denton April 12.

Eleven clubs were represented at Saturday's meeting.—Council Reporter.

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

Most any child who takes this tasty laxative once will welcome it the next time he's constipated and it has him headachy, cross, listless, with bad breath, coated tongue or little appetite.

Syrup of Black-Draught is a tasty liquid companion to the famous BLACK-DRAUGHT. The principal ingredient is the same in both products; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

The Syrup's flavor appeals to most children, and, given by the simple directions, its action is usually gentle, but thorough. Remember Syrup of Black-Draught next time. Two sizes; 50c and 25c.

W. L. LOVE DIED GALVESTON HOSPITAL EARLY THURSDAY

NATIVE OF CORSICANA HAD RESIDED IN GALVESTON MANY YEARS

W. L. "Billy" Love, native of Corsicana but resident of Galveston for almost half a century, died in a Galveston hospital about 2:30 Thursday morning according to information received here by relatives. He was 71 years old. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in Galveston.

The deceased is survived by his widow, a son and a grandson; a sister, Mrs. Frank P. Wood of Corsicana; and several nieces and nephews including Mrs. Cullen Dunn, Misses Minnie and Cecile Singer and E. L. Keith; and other relatives.

Mr. Love was the son of the late Dr. W. L. Love and spent the major portion of his life in the newspaper and printing businesses. He was formerly connected with various Galveston and Houston papers, and for the last several years had been operating a job composition shop. He was well known in Corsicana from his numerous visits here.

Several of the Corsicana relatives plan to attend the funeral services.

WILLIE H. WILSON, FORMER CORSICANAN, IS BURNED TO DEATH

ANDREWS, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Willie H. Wilson, 50, rancher, who lived alone, was found dead today in his burning home near Shafter Lake.

Funeral services for Willie H. Wilson, who was burned to death in his home in Andrews Wednesday night, will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sutherland McCammon chapel. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilson of this city and was well known here.

proper manner of handling milk.

At the afternoon session of the short course, G. G. Gibson discussed essentials of a balanced dairy ration mentioning the ration should be ample, balanced, succulent, palatable, contain sufficient bulk, and have variety. He also urged the forming of herd improvement units where unprofitable animals could be discovered by the keeping of adequate and comprehensive records, insisting elimination of the poor producers was only good business.

E. R. Eudaly explained a simple method of balancing a dairy ration, asserting the only reason for use of grain supplements was to make up deficiencies of the roughage used. He supplied the group with a formula and demonstrated means of securing a balance from a number of combinations. He referred feeders with problems to consult with the county agents. He also urged cow owners to study the tags on their bought feeds to determine whether or not they were securing the type and quality of feed needed. The course was concluded with an extensive discussion of permanent pastures and trench silos.

Sweethearts Banquet Date.

April 19 was set for the date of the annual sweetheart's banquet at a meeting of the Senior Hi-Y Club Wednesday night at the YMCA. Cullen Dunn was selected as toastmaster for the occasion.

Johnny Garitty, president, presided.

Formal Opening Buie Appliance Store Saturday

Formal opening of a new Corsicana establishment, the Buie Appliance Store, at 112 South Beaton street has been announced for Saturday, March 2.

The new store is owned by J. C. Buie, and Roy E. Peebles will be the manager. A full line of General Electric electrical appliances of all kinds will be carried, and a line of gas ranges is contemplated.

Mr. Peebles announced Thursday a complete sales and service department would be maintained. The manager of the new firm is well known in Corsicana having resided here for more than eight years in a similar capacity. Since leaving Corsicana he has been in Tyler and Marshll.

The new store has been completely redecorated and a number of workmen were busy Thursday completing arrangement of displays and unpacking almost a car load of electrical appliances of all kinds.

The general public has been cordially invited to attend the opening on Saturday.

Start Training Of Dairy Judging Team

Training is expected to start immediately on a dairy judging team of Corsicana and Navarro county boys which will be sponsored by the Corsicana Junior Chamber of Commerce according to A. P. Bralley, assistant county agent, in charge of boys' activities.

John Finch, 4-H club leader and a member of the Jaycee boys' committee, will have charge of the team and it is expected to enter its first competition at thee Fort Worth Fat Stock Show on March 15. Finch will be aided by Mr. Bralley, and R. L. Barron, high school vocational teacher.

The team will consist of three regular members and an alternate who will be selected by actual competition.

journment. That made it possible for the measure to go to the White House more quickly.

President Roosevelt's signature is assured.

The last congressional hurdle was cleared yesterday when the house approved 168 to 51, the senate bill adding $100,000,000 to the Export-Import Bank's capital.

The amendments which the house inserted would forbid loans by the bank to countries in default of their war debts and would permit Finland to buy commercial aircraft, as distinguished from military planes.

Opposition came from those who advocated a forthright move to lend money directly to the Baltic republic and those who feared that any type of loan would jeopardize American neutrality.

FLOOD

levees at Princeton and Butte City, hamelts about 70 miles north of the state capital, might go out.

The towns of Gerber and Tahama, about 115 miles north of Sacramento, were nearly covered by flood waters and residents had to abandon their homes.

North of the stricken towns, the river was falling.

State, federal authorities, and the Red Cross moved units into the stricken area to aid in reconstruction and to care for the homeless.

Governor Culbert L. Olson announced the state had obtained a $10,000 emergency WPA emergency appropriation and had asked for $100,000 more.

Flood waters still covered portions of Redding, Red Bluff, Orland and surrounding agricultural lands, and many other communities in the state's vast north central valley.

Deaths attributed to the flood were those of Harold E. Von Bergen, hydraulic engineer who drowned yesterday while attempting to measure the river's overflow near Sacramento, and Irene Clemens, who drowned when her car overturned in a creek.

Additional Funds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The works progress administration granted an additional $60,000 of flood relief funds for California today bringing to $90,000 the total made available since Tuesday.

Additional Farm Checks Received

Benefits received by Navarro county farmers for compliance with the governmental program were increased Thursday with the receipt of 1939 and 1938 conservation vouchers.

There were 32 checks for 1939 compliance received, amounting to $2,314.96, bringing that total to $635,328.31.

Eleven vouchers for 1938 compliance amounted to $434.46, bringing that tota to $832,595.21.

GERMANY

death are at stake. Evasion is no longer possible."

In other words, Fuehrer Hitler is in no mood to offer Welles any peace plan.

If others have any plan, informed circles intimated, Hitler is willing to consider it, but always from the viewpoint that Brtain must renounce all claims or intentions to interfere with Germany on the European continent besides "disgording" what Germany believe to be properly unlawfully annexed from Germany—her colonies.

Guarantees Wanted

Some authorized commentators even went so far as to claim that mere reunuciation by England is not enough—Britain and France must give guarantees that Germany will not be interferred with every quarter century.

Welles insists upon paying his own bills during his sojourn in Germany, authorized sources intimated. They made a fine distinction between visiting statesmen who come on invitation and those who announced their coming.

Invited guests of the nation are housed in Germany's new guest house, the Bellevue Palace. Welles at his own request will live at the Adlon Hotel, three doors from the American embassy.

For invited guests state banquets are arranged. It was distinctly pointed out, however, that whatever hospitality may be shown Welles will be in the nature of "private courtesy."

German officialdom understands fully and appreciates that Welles desire to avoid even the semblance of his being under obligations toward any of the nations visited and that he is coming strictly on business.

Take Welles at His Word

The German press has been fond of poking fun at British statesmen visiting the French front and being entertained lavishly. Germany takes Welles at his word that he is coming solely to inform himsef on behalf of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, and therefore they neither expect him or the fuehrer to propose any peace plan nor will they be disappointed if he austerely refrains from converting a journey of information into a social junket.

Germany must stick to economic autarchy—self-sufficiency—so long as Great Britain controls German overseas trade lanes, nazis answered United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull today.

Authorized sources said Hull's aim that the end of the war should bring the end of autarchy, regimentation and totalitarianism would be impossible for Germany while Britain was in a position to choke off her trade, especially her access to raw materials.

With an evident reference to United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, the Frankfurter Zietung declared that "whoever looks around Europe will find a front of autarchist reality."

That front is bound by determination to shake off "the Anglo-Saxon yoke," the newspaper said.

Activities at Local NYA Youth Center

The NYA girls of Group I began a new period on February 11. On Monday evening, the 12th. the girls had a meeting and elected new officers, and made plans for the following two weeks. They also had a report by the representative of the convention for NYA girls and boys held at the YMCA on January 26.

Since the home economics teacher has been transferred, it was suggested by Mrs. Colp and voted on by the girls that they would direct classes on different subjects. The subjects included menu planning, recreation, health, sewing, cooking and citizenship. The classes weer enjoyed and appreciated by each of the girls.

Mrs. Colp gave a lecture and forum on "How to Develop Personal Power" and also a lecture on "Sex Relationship and Hygiene."

Thursday evening, Feb. 22, there was a talk on citizenship by Charles T. Banister. On Feb. 23, B. T. O'Connell of the Texas State Employment office gave a talk on "How to Seek Employment."

Friday night, Feb. 23, the girls had a farewell party for the ones who were leaving the project. They were very happy to have as their guests Dorothy Bedford and Mozell Lowis, two former NYA girls.

Our guests this period include Bazcom Lang, supervisor; Miss Zoe Price, case worker, of Mexia; Mr. O'Connell and Miss Rachley of the Texas State Employment office; Miss Alice Wilde, county home demonstration agent from Groesbeck.

Done Wright had her tonsils removed Saturday morning. A matched basketball game was played between the girls and the Wright Titus girls Wednesday night, Feb .21, during the YMCA tournament.—Reporter.

FRANCE

gunpowder and making bullets and laboring on the assembly lines of aviation plants.

There are ten sets of decrees in all.

A communique issued after the cabinet meeting announced only the titles of the decrees.

France already has three meatless days a week but other foods had not been rationed.

The first decree was entitled "relative to spending abroad" in line with the government's policy of reducing ordinary imports to conserve foreign exchange for extraordinary war purchases.

A second group of measures "destined to restrain consumption" provided for "a general census for distribution of rationing cards" and control of retail food centers.

A third decree tightened price control.

A fourth set of measures provided grants to farmers to increase spring wheat planting, cultivation of farmlands in army zones and reduction of customs duties on farm machinery.

Other decrees were designed to facilitate French exports, to regulate the employment of women, to fight waste in civil and military administrations and to provide easier taxes for landlords deprived of rents because of the war.

CONGRESS

Combined, the appropriation for rivers and harbors and flood control represented a cut of over $100,000,000 from that for the current fiscal year. Army engineers said this would sharply curtail the waterway program.

Congress finished work on one piece of much-debated legislation today close upon the heels of a prediction by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, that the session should be ready for adjournment by June 1.

The senate accepted house amendments to the Finnish loan bill and thus ended at least for the time the controversy over what if any steps this country should take to assist the Baltic nation in its war with Russia. The measure now goes to the White House.

The bill does not authorize directly a Finnish Loan, but increases the capital of the export-import bank by $100,000,000. Jesse Jones, Federal loan administrator, has indicated that $20,000,000 would be made available to Finland without delay.

Another aspect of troubles abroad occupied the house foreign affairs committee before which Former President Hoover appeared. He recommended that congress appropriate now $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 for relief in Poland and waarned that when the war is over "the whole of Europe will be a spot of starvation."

The house devoted its session to a $23,472,567 supply bill for non-military acvtivities of the war department, such as flood control.

On the senate side the finance committee heard from Burton C. Budd of Detroit, vice president of Packard Motors export corporation, that the automobile industry believes its best customers, the farmers, have been helped by the administration's reciprocal trade agreement program.

Wool Growers Official Heard.

Before Budd took the stand, however, F. R. Marshall of Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers association, testified that the trade program "is trading off agriculture to increase exports of factory products."

A senate commerce sub-committee, considering a resolution by Senator Tobey (R-NH) for elimination of questions on personal income from the 1940 census, was told by Ralph Hetzel, a CIO official, that such questions were necessary to develop information for an intelligent attack on unemployment.

R. M. Evans, AAA administrator, urged the house agriculture committee to approve the agriculture department's "certificate plan" for providing an automatically finance program from which to pay farm subsidies. He said the plan was similar to the old processing tax system.

Barkley narrowed the congressional program for the rest of the session to three major legislative tasks which he said were

1. Continuing the reciprocal trade program.
2. Broadening the Hatch "Anti-politics" law.
3. Approving the remaining appropriations measures.

Although some democratic leaders predicted adjournment by May 15, Barkley said he was not ready to revise his forecast that the session would end by June 1.

The house, pushing ahead with the appropriations bills, took up a $203,472,567 measure providing the funds for such non-military activities of the war department as flood control.

In the senate, Barkley sought final action on legislation to double the existing $100,000,000 capital of the export-import bank.

Barkley predicted the senate would approve amendments to broaden the hatch act to prohibit political activity by state employes paid in art with federal funds. The act now applies only to federal employes.

Barkley said he expected senate approval of the administration's reciprocal trade program within a week or ten days after the chamber begins debate, probably next week.

ment was "insisting, naturally" that the groups participating be "absolutely neutral' in their conduct so that none of the supplies be used in any way prejudicial to the reich and its war effort.

Rep. Hennings (D-Mo) asked about a rumor "that the German government had refused to co-operate with the American Red Cross because it was "pro-British."

"I don't think there is any truth to that anywhere along the line," Hoover replied. He added that the American Red Cross was not concerned with distribution of foodstuffs and did not want to be now.

"We're discussing the mass feeding of a people that will cost $50,000,000" he said.

Disagrees With Tinkham.

For that reason, Hoover urged the committee to distinguish clearly in its mind, the activities of private agencies raising relief funds for Poland or other countries from the proposed famine relief for Poland.

Hoover's parting words to the committee were in disagreement with a statement by Rep. Tinkham (R-Mass) that aid to Finland at this time might constitute a violation of this country's neutrality law unless previous agreement was obtained from Russia.

"No, I don't agree with that theory," Hoover replied.

'If the American people keep their actions on the basis of pure humanitarian relief, there can be no question of violation in either fact or spirit of neutrality."

Applause greeted that statement.

Hoover appeared before the commitee in connection with bills to appropriate from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 for Polish relief.

It was his first appearance before a congressional committee since he was commerce secretary.

Hoover asserted that Central Poland has been shut off from its own food supply by dismemberment.

Special Meeting County Democratic Committee Called

A special meeting of the Navarro County Democratic executive committee will be held at the courthouse Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

N. S. Crawford of Kerens, chairman, has called the meeting for the purpose of selecting five precinct chairmen to succeed five members who have died during the past year.

Other business may be presented at the meeting.

WAR REVIEW

lied and neutral merchants shipping—the current conflict is running ahead of the World War, a daily average of about 6,000 tons having been sunk as compared with about 4,500 in the World War.

Available statistics give the following picture of the European War to date:

The French say allied casalties on land—in the spasmodic smallscale action on the western front—total about 1,500 killed and 7,500 wounded, with German casualties "slightly higher;" the British list army casualties to Dec. 31 as 40 killed and wounded and 720 dead of accident or disease.

Invasion of Poland

The German invasion of Poland was far more destructive. Hitler listed German casualties there up to Sept. 30, after most of the fighting in Poland was over, as 10,572 killed, 30,322 wounded and 3,404 missing. Polish casualties were much higher but indefinite. A Quaker relief commission estimated that the number of persons killed in the siege of Warsaw, the bloodiest phase of the campaign, at 50,000.

Compare this with 100,000 allied soldiers and 250,000 Germans killed at Ypres alone, and with 70,000 Russians killed and wounded at Tannenberg.

The naval war is largely a fight between Britain's great surface fleet and the submarines of Germany, although the French navy, Europe's second largest, is effective in the blockade against Germany and has sunk some submarines. The allies together claim to have destroyed about 50.

The only French warship acknowledged to have been lost was the mine-laying cruiser Pluton, sunk in an accidental explosion with a loss of 100 lives. The British, however, have lost 30 naval vessels, including 15 naval trawlers, and 2,602 officers and men who were killed and 69 taken prisoner.

British Naval Losses

Aside from the trawlers British naval losses were one aircraft carrier, one battleship, one merchant cruiser, six destroyers, four submarines and two minesweepers.

French air casualty figures are indefinite but the British list 738 men lost. The 20th casualty list, issued last night, contained 42 names.

Merchant shipping losses reported through Feb. 28 were:

Country—	No. of Ships	Gross Tonnage
Britain	175	657,846
France	17	78,290
Germany	32	168,689
Neutrals	177	470,007

Strain On Neutrals

The strain on neutrals, particularly in Scandinavia, the lowlands and in the Balkans, has been great. The plight of Belgium and the Netherlands, planted directly among the warring powers, is obvious. Commerce on the high seas is a chief problem from Scandinavia, while the Balkans are fought over diplomatically as a source of important raw materials sought by both sides.

Since Russia become embrolled in Finland Nov. 30, the threat of action in southeastern Europe, and particularly agaist Russia's oil-rich Caucasus, has been hard. Turkey, non-belligenerent ally of Britain and France, is on a virtual war footing. The allies have massed thousands of troops in the Near East.

Italy, who at the beginning of the war pictured herself as ready to remain neutral and profit from increased trade, now is not so happy. What she wants now is a peace or compromise so that she can wield some influence. She fears that if the war ends with either side a definite victor she would be relegated far to the background and never would attain her long-sought "peace with justice."

MACKENZIE

sion to resign his commission in the British army to take command of the international volunteers in Finland.

The number of volunteers who have arrived has not been made known, but the move to appoint Major Roosevelt to the command would indicate that a substantial force already is on the ground or expected in the immediate future.

Allied intervention with a trained and fully equipped expeditionary force would, of course, mean a declaration of war against the Reds. It would mean the forcing of Russia into military alliance with Germany. However, the feeling has been steadily growing in the allied countries that they will have to fight Russia sooner or later and that it would be better to strike as soon as possible.

In other words, the present tendency of the Anglo-French brotherhood is to undertake to trounce both Russia and Germany at the same time, and get the job over with.

So the Russians are racing to try to beat out the allies and spring. The latter may arrive first and if it finds the Finns still holding out there will be nothing left for the bolshevists to do but to resort to their huge airforce to try to complete the job of crushing Finland, which would take a lot of doing. In the long run, however, the Russians must win because of vast strength—unless the allies send help.

PRORATION

ruling by the supreme court of the Unted States in six months.

Sadler favored a commission hearing on the East Texas situation and writing a new order on the basis of evidence taken at the hearing adding he was unwilling to shift the responsibility to the supreme court.

An appeal, he asserted, would "turn the oil industry over to the major companies."

Thompson said a new order, in view of the court's holding, necessarily would reduce the per well minimium below 20 barrels daily.

"If it does not conform we would be in contempt and the order would be promptly stricken down," he said.

Marginal Well Statute.

"The court wrote that the marginal well statute was not patently invalid. Me must assume it is valid. So the poorer wells must be given all they can make up to 20 barrels per day.

"Then the court said that nonmarginal wells must be restricted down to as low at 5 to 10 barrels. I do not believe the legislature ever meant for us to restrict oil wells below 20 barrels if they are deeper than 3,000 feet. The legislature meant in my opinion, that we were not to prorate or even attempt to prorate or limit production when this limitation got down to as low as 20 barrels. This was to protect the little man."

He pointed to another Texas statute which probihits proration in new fields until production reached 10,000 barrels daily.

He added:

"The legislature will again pass on all these questions next year because the proration law expires then. We insisted on trying it as a temporary measure for safety to the little man. The wisdom of this on the part of the legislature is shown by the present situation.

"We should stand by our decision to appeal this case and request the court to stay its order of injunction pending appeal and no damage will be done anyone."

JUDGE PAUL MILLER INVITED TO ATTEND TEXAS CELEBRATION

SIGNING OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE TO BE OBSERVED

Judge Paul H. Miller has received an invitation to attend the 104th anniversary of the signing of the Texas Declaration of Independence at Old Washington-on-the-Brazos, Washington county, Saturday, when thousands of Texans will be present.

Twenty-five counties, including Navarro county, were named for signers of the Declaration of Independence and a Lone Star flag will be presented the county with the largest delegation present Saturday.

The other 24 counties named for signers are Briscoe, Caldwell, Carson, Coleman, Collin, Collingsworth, Ellis, Fisher, Gaines, Hardiman, Grimes, Houston, Maverick, Menard Motley, Parmer, Roberts, Potter, Robertson, Rusk, Swisher, Waller and Zavalla.

There were 15,000 people present last year, advance notices indicate. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel will be one of the speakers along with Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas, and Hon. John H. Sharp, associate justice of the supreme court. The Texas A. and M. College band and Company C, Infantry, Texas A. and M., will be features.

This year's celebration will be also honoring the memory of Gen. Thomas Jefferson Rusk, one of the signers, and chief justice of the Texas supreme court in 1840, 100 years ago.

Traffic Lights Are Being Redecorated

Corsicana's traffic signal lights are having their "faces lifted and redecorated" by a crew of workmen from the Texas Power and Light Company and present a greatly improved appearance.

All of the main portions of the light cases are being given a coat of shiny black paint, while the under sides of the reflectors over the lights are being finished in white, and the top covers of the signals are being finished in bright red.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

By VERONICA DENGEL

FROM THE MAIL BAG

Veronica Dengel

H. G. writes: Do you have any leaflets on table manners for children? Our chief trouble with both our boys—aged eight and ten—is posture; and with the younger one pushing food on the spoon. He hates using a fork.

No, H. G., I don't have any such leaflet, I'm sorry to say. As to their posture, are you quite sure the chairs which the children are using are the correct height for them? After all, if they sit too low, they are quite likely to slump over the table, and use elbows to support themselves because of the fact that their bodies are a bit out of balance. With the younger one, why not insist on his using the spoon—taking the fork away from his place, and putting one at the other boy's place, with the remark—when the subject comes up, as it undoubtedly will—that when he is older, or big enough, he can use a fork, too; but that for the present he is too young! That should bring results!

Pushing food on a fork or spoon with the finger is indeed a bad habit which must be overcome as early as possible. I have occasionally noticed adults slyly resort to this method of getting an elusive morsel on their fork—but the habit is a most unfortunate one. A small piece of bread—or a short bit of celery, makes an excellent "pusher" whenever this is necessary; but if one uses a fork correctly this should not be needed. I would rather forego that particular bit of food. It is a slow process to teach children good table manners—but it can be done; and pays rich rewards in poise and assurance later on.

F. E. R. writes: I am 14 years old, with a fairly good promise of a singing voice. There are only two points lacking. The first of these is strength of the vocal cords; but I realize that this will probably come as I grow older. The second point is a lack of clearness and that is chiefly the reason for writing you. I would be very grateful for any advice you could give me as to whether or not there is anything I could do to clarify my voice. I don't believe the trouble lies in soreness of the throat, as it does not hurt me in any way, but I think it is more in a diet. If so, could you tell me what I should and should not eat.

Yours is a most interesting question, F. E. R. I happen to know a famous radio singer very well. Whenever she goes on a concert tour—which makes terrific demands upon her voice—she changes her diet! Of course, at all times she is careful; but on tour she eats much more fruit and fruit juices, and far less of the starches and sugars, and eliminates milk entirely. It may be, in your particular case, that the milk is the offending factor. If so, eliminate it from your daily food intake—but be sure that you replace it with extra calcium foods. And what about chocolate? That thickens the voice up, as does ice cream. Stop these foods for a while and see what happens. Then, as to foods to cut any mucous which may be in the throat, drink raw pineapple juice and, celery juice, take a glass of hot water each morning with a teaspoonful of raw honey in it. Just one other thought—are you sure your voice is being properly placed? If you are studying with a teacher, it might be well to get an outside opinion. If you are not studying, it would be wise to take a few lessons for this purpose at least—so that you will not ruin your voice by straining. Good luck to you!

Four Burglaries Widely Separated Parts of County

Four burglaries and theft reports in widely-scattered sections of Navarro county Monday night or early Tresday morning was receiving the attention of Sheriff Cap Curington and other county officers Tuesday.

O. B. Dean, residing on Highway 31, four miles east of Dawson, reported a ton of cottonseed was stolen from his seed house during the night.

J. R. Ballard, of Angus, reported thieves entered his smokehouse and escaped with two hams, two shoulders, two middlings and eight gallons of lard.

Frank Kent, who resides several miles southeast of Corsicana was forced by car trouble Monday night to park his pick-up truck and trailer along the pavement of Highway 22 immediately south of the bridge spanning the western section of Lake Halbert. When he returned to his vehicles early Tuesday morning, two wheels had been removed from the trailer, equipped with 700x17 Goodyear tires and tubes and one wheel and a 600x17 Davis DeLuxe tire and tube were missing from the pickup.

The J. A. Penney Grocery and Market at Eureka was burglarized. The intruders smashed a show window to gain entrance. Included in the merchandise reported missing from the store are ten pairs of blue kinimo trousers, eight kinimo shirts, two dress shirts (E. and W. brand) two boxes of socks (oxhide brand), six cartons of Lucky Strike, Chesterfield and Camel cigarettes, 12 pairs of flannel work gloves (Tom and Jerry and Boss Leather) seven cartons of Prince Albert tins, two cartons of Bull Durham smoking tobacco, a box of King Edward cigars, a quantity of ladies bloomers and step-ins, several pennies and a number of bolts of print material.

No arrests had been reported on the four cases early Tuesday morning.

Sixteen-Year-Olds In Prison For Life

DEDHAM, Fass., Feb. 29.—(AP)—Two 16-year-old boys, whose crimes netted them 45 cents, awoke behind the walls of Massachusetts' state prison today, their home for the rest of their days.

The two—Arthur S. Cray, Jr., and Irwin R. Nelson, Jr., both of Quincy—were under indictment for first degree murder in the holdup slaying of Emil Carlson, 45, a night watchman, but accepted District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing's offer permitting them to plead guilty to a second degree charge. The death penalty is compulsory upon conviction for first degree.

Former Soldier Ran Amuck; 2 Neighbors Slain, One Wounded

IRON RIVER, Mich., Feb. 29.—(AP)—Running amuck with a .22 calibre revolver, a 45-year old ex-soldier slew two neighbors and critically wounded a third man before surrendering to police who trapped him after a gun battle in tiny Bates township near here late yesterday.

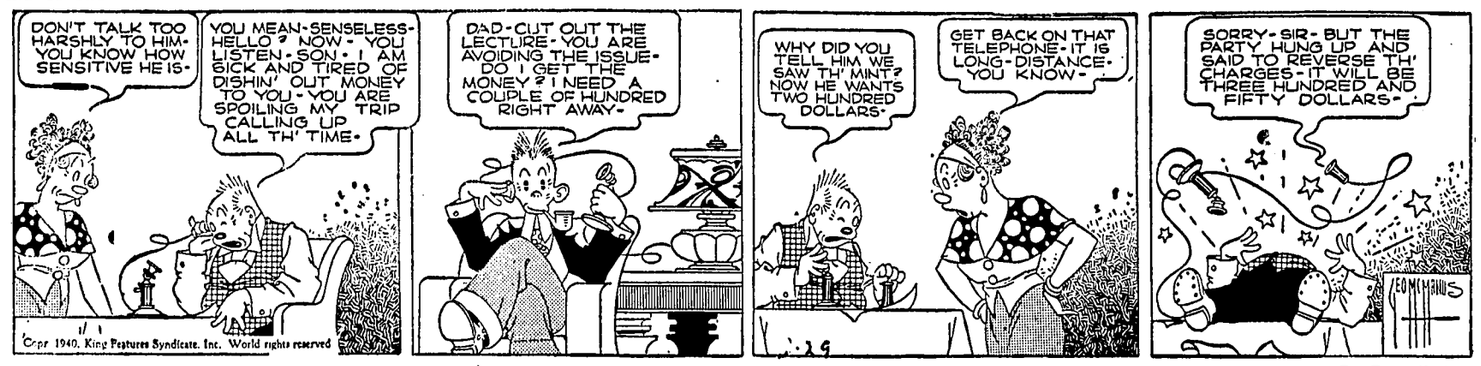

The man was identified by Sheriff Emory King as Marion Marsch. Iron county prosecutor, W. Lloyd Symmonds, said Marsch would be charged with murder.

The slain men were Peter Baker, 65, and Hans Matson, 63. Anton Kunchynski, 45, was wounded.

Officers said Marsch complained people had been talking about him.

County Treasurer.

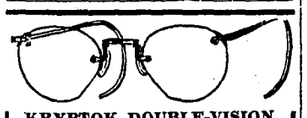

In another place in today's paper will be found the formal announcement of Mrs. Mamie Armstrong as a candidate for the office of county treasurer subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mrs. Armstrong is a native of the Blooming Grove community where she resides on a farm. She is the mother of four children. Last summer she suffered the misfortune of losing a leg in a farm accident.

Her many friends feel that she is thoroughly competent to hold the office she seeks and that should she be elected she will conduct the office in an efficient and satisfactory manner.

The voters of Navarro county are respectively requested to give serious consideration to the candidacy of Mrs. Armstrong when they cast their ballots for the important office of county treasurer in the coming democratic primaries.

Oats, No. 2 red 46-47.

Wheat Closes Lower

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—(AP)—After fluctuating nervously within a range of about 1 1-2 cents, wheat prices closed fractionally lower today.

Most of the selling was associated with pressure of loan wheat coming to market and lagging domestic demand for wheat and flour as well as virtual stagnation of export business.

Wheat closed 1-2 to 7-8 cent lower than yesterday, May $1.03-1.02 7-8, July $1.01-1.00 7-8; corn unchanged to 1-4 down, May 56 7-8 3-4, July 57 1-4; oats 1-8 lower to 1-8 higher.

That represented an increase of six per cent in comparison with January, 1939.

REPUBLICANS ELECT TWO CONGRESSMEN IN OHIO ON TUESDAY

By the Associated Press

Two republican congressional victories in Ohio were hailed by Republican Chairman John Hamilton today as pointing toward a democratic defeat in the November election.

"The republicans take the first blood of 1940," Hamilton said through national headquarters in Washington. "This confirms the trend we have contended has been running since 1938."

J. Harry McGregor, republican, won by nearly 5,000 votes the seat of the late William A. Ashbrook, democrat, in the 17th Ohio district. McGregor's opponent was the late representative's nephew, Byron B. Ashbrook.

The other victory marked no increase in republican congressional seats, for Mrs. Chester C. Bolton of Cleveland was elected to the place held by her late husband. She defeated Anthony A. Fleger, democrat, by more than 16,000.

The third term question continued to dominate political developments in democratic ranks.

Sharp Lull In Sea Warfare Is Noted For Week

By The Associated Press.

A sharp lull came in sea warfare this week with only three ships reported sunk.

The war's 26th week also brought reports of three sinkings last week.

Two of the newly sunk ships were British freighters, victims of mines and the third, a Danish ship given up for lost and possibly sunk some time ago.

The known toll to date for all nations, including naval vessels, stood at 431 ships of 1,468,598 tons. More than 3,603 persons have died and several thousand have been listed as missing.

Kerens Music Club In Program Session On Last Wednesday

KERENS, Feb. 27.—(Spl.)—Mrs. V. D. Bruner and Mrs. A. S. Pritchard were hostesses to the Kerens Music Club on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the latter Mrs. Charles Reese, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, and conducted a short business session during which Mrs. T. S. Daniel was made an honorary member of the club.

Preceding the program, Mrs. R. H. Logan, parliamentarian, gave a summary of the laws of the Third District Federated Clubs, which was very beneficial and memory refreshing. Mrs. C. W. White led an interesting program on Texas.

Roll call was answered with "Most Interesting Place in Texas to Me."

"Texas, Our Texas," "Have You Ever Been to Texas in the Spring," and "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," were sung by Mrs. R. H. Mays and Mrs. F. E. McCown in their usual charming way.

Mrs. Hugh Barlow next introduced the guest of the day as our good neighbor and famous poet, Mrs. Pearl Owen Gentry of Malakoff.

Mrs. Gentry in response asked to present as reader of a number of her poems, Mrs. LaRoy Brannon, also of Malakoff. who is unexcelled as a speaker. Reading only from the as yet unpublished volume "Hilltops and Shadows," which is Mrs. Gentry's latest contribution to the literary world, Mrs. Brannon charmed her listeners with both her own poise and presentation, as well as the beauty of the poems.

A musical number at this point was given by Mrs. Lacy Garrett, finished violinist, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harold Roberts, also a talented musician.

Concluding this most entertaining program, Mrs. J. B. Coates read a number of the poems of another of our good neighbors and friend, Whitney Montgomery of Dallas. who was reared at Eureka.

During the following social hour delicious cherry pie topped with whipped cream was served with hot coffee to members and Mmes. F. E. McCown, Harold Roberts, Earl Seale and Andrew McClung, who were guests.

145th Anniversary Of Antonio Navarro Passes Unobserved

Almost unnoted except by a few close students of Texas History and some whose business it is to remember such occasions, the 145th anniversary of the birth of Jose Antonio Navarro, from whom this county and city both derived names, passed without incident. As far as could be learned there was no special observance of any kind throughout the city.

Not even a memorial wreath or a flag graced the handsome bronze memorial to the early day Texas statesman on the front approach to the Navarro county courthouse. The statue was formally unveiled on October 2, 1938, a few years after an oil painting of the patriot had been presented the Navarro County Bar Association by the Hon. Richard Mays, and which has since hung in the district courtroom.

Navarro was born near San Antonio on February 27, 1795, and made his home in that vicinity for the greater portion of his life.

Young Democrats Of Texas Recognized

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 29.—(AP)—Price Daniel of Liberty, president of the Texas Young Democratic Clubs, has been named vice-chairman of the affiliated groups committee of the Young Democratic Clubs of America by Homer Mat Adams, national president.

Earle B. Mayfield, Jr., young democratic national committeeman from Texas, was placed on the organization committee.

Other Texas Young Democratic leaders to receive recognition by membership on committees of the national organization included: Mrs. Sue Hair of Beaumont, women's activity; and Bascom Lang of Austin, first voters.

WANTED—You to Think. Texas is the richest state in the nation in natural resources, yet pays to its needy old people less than half the average paid by the other states; pays nothing on its constitutional promise to needy children and adult blind, and to the retired teacher fund, in its failure to meet these obligations it deprives trade of fifteen million dollars of Federal matching funds. These conditions were brought on us by a Legislature that seemed more concerned in protecting oil corporation profits than in relieving human suffering. A tax levy on oil equal to that in Oklahoma, or half that in Louisiana would provide ample funds without any sales tax. If you would like to change these conditions by changing legislative representatives write me a card or call at my magazine and book store, 115 W. Collin St., Corsicana. J. R. DONNELL.

VALUE PERMANENT GRASS PROTECTION TERRACING SHOWN

FRED M. COPELAND FARM NEAR PURSLEY CITED AS GOOD EXAMPLE

The value of permanent bermuda grass for the protection of terrace outlets is demonstrated very well on the Fred M. Copeland farm, which is located one mile east of Pursley, Corsicana CCC soil conservation camp officials state. Mr. Copeland realized that when proper terrace outlets are not provide, large gullies will start and slowly eat back through the cultivated fields and often produce greater erosion problems than originally existed. Often is this the case when terraces are discharged into the road ditches which do not have sufficient cross-sectional area and proper cover of vegetation to hold up the terrace water, it was stated.

With the assistance of technicians from the Corsicana CCC camp, Mr. Copeland improved old pastures adjoining cultivated fields and established pasture strips to provide sufficient places for terrace water. If there is a pasture adjoining a cultivated field to be terraced, stated Mr. Copeland, there is no further need for discussion—empty water on the pasture.

Establishing pasture for terrace outlet water involves the same principles and problems as found in growing any other crop. First, the seed bed must be well preparey by breaking, usually in the late fall and winter months. Then at a time when moisture conditions are favorable, roots of the Bermuda grass are transplanted. Spacing of the roots determine to a certain extent the amount of cover expected the first year, stated Mr. Copeland. All other conditions being favorable, spacing on three foot centers will give a complete cover of sod the first growing season.

Mr. Copeland stated that as soon as his pasture grass had produced sufficient growth of sod to hold up the terrace water, he had county equipment build his terraces. Terracing on one field was delayed another year because of insufficient growth.

Where a new pasture strip is to be established for terrace water, care must be exercised to bring the pasture far enough up the slope to catch the top terrace. Usually this means that terrace lines should be run before land preparation is started.

Land thus retired, to provide places for terrace water, is fenced and the extra grazing for my livestock more than offsets the loss of income from these acres, stated Mr. Copeland. The discharge of water from the terrace system, waters the new pasture and makes it the best grazing area on the farm.

CARRYING OF SUIT THROUGH COURTS OF TEXAS WAS TEDIOUS

AUSTIN, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Four and a half years was the average time required to carry a civil suit through Texas courts in the 30 years prior to 1936.

The finding was part of a survey by Robert W. Stayton, law professor, and Philip Brown, research assistant in the University of Texas law school.

The authors, who published their report in the Texas Law Review, advised that it was "purely factual and objective." They added they hoped to reach some conclusions as to causes as the survey progressed. "Influences bearing on pendency of litigation are so numerous and frequently so inconstant that hasty judgment is inadvisable, they said.

Based on 5,753 cases in supreme court files, it was found that litigation in the highest court was longest, two years. The average case in district court required a year and a quarter for disposal while in civil appeals courts it required approximately 10 months. The remainder of the average four and a half years was spent in getting the liquidation from one court to the next higher.

Graphs showed, however, that in the last 10 years of the survey district court procedure speeded up, the average time dropping from 400 days to about 200. The over-all average for a stop-over in the civil appeals court was 300 days. But an upward trend for the last decade showed 400 days reuired for civil appeals disposition. The last five years indicated the supreme court required periods approximating the 1906-1936 average of 759 days.

Richland Student In Trinity University Has Part In Play

WAXAHACHIE, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Blanche McCrary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McCrary of Richland, and a junior student of Trinity University, has been chosen as one of the cast in the play "You Can't Take It With You," which will be presented in the university's main auditorium on March 8, it was recently announced by Prof. Yetta Mitchell, head of the speech department.

The 1938 Pulitzer Prize winning play is the only production of the Trinity Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega and the cast includes 17 characters.

Miss McCrary's major subject is speech, and she is minoring in English.
